

Privacy Statement for Neter's Nature LLC

Welcome customers, future customers and those who are just curious to see who we are. Neter's Nature would like to assure you that we are committed to protecting your privacy and confidential information according to law. We want you to trust that we will not sell your personal information nor do we have a need to sell your personal information. This website is meant to do business with you. Our manufactured products are what we offer. There is a need to store your personal information for the ability to notify you in case of a recall that is directed by the FDA or the Ohio Department of Agriculture. We also use analytics so data that you enter is collected and used for marketing, calculating shipping charges, banking, purchasing, sales, etc. We want to make sure that your experience with our company a smooth transition/transaction so that you will return.

Information and Analytic Data Collected

Netersnature.com does not associate the data collected for analytic purposes with individual user identities. In order for our analytics to work for us to evaluate our business performance there is a need for us to collect the internet Protocol (IP) address of the computer being used, web pages requested referring to web page, browser used, date and time. Netersnature.com may use cookies in order to deliver web content specific to the individual users' interest or to keep track of online purchasing transactions. Surveys and web forms may be used.

Placing an order with Netersnature.com

We utilize a third party to complete the transaction when you purchase our products. Netersnature.com does not see your checkout information. We utilize PayPal.com for that part of all transactions. This is their Privacy Statement.

Paypal Privacy Statement

<https://www.paypal.com/us/legalhub/privacy-full>

